Activities

Activities—working together with others. C. P. H. S. is proud of its extra-curricular opportunities. For those interested in the welfare of others—Sunshine and Hi-Y. For music lovers, both vocal and instrumental selections are offered. Loyalty and good sportsmanship are stressed through the Booster and Lettermen's Clubs. Machinist and F. F. A. organizations help boys interested in tools and farming. Plays are presented for those interested in drama. Publications are handy for budding journalists. These and many more are offered for student growth in his school life.

That Christmas feeling is brought to C. P. by the Student Council.

Student Council officers examining the student parking lot are: Nancy Iams, treas.; Pat Hickey, sec.; Eston Perry, pres. and Dave McMichael, veep.

Student Council

Spring not only brings forth May flowers, but also Student Council elections. The candidates for office write and present their speeches before the student body. Several political tricks such as posting signs in the hall or passing out hand bills to students are used in this campaign. The students register their votes on a real voting machine. This gives the voter an opportunity to learn and practice the correct voting procedures.

The elected officers and home room representatives meet at the beginning of the school term and make plans for the projects of the year. The first project this year was a handbook published by the '52-'53 Council. The main project of the year was the new school parking lot which was successfully carried out with the help and cooperation of school and civic clubs.

Annual projects for the Student Council are the Christmas decorations and the "Good School Citizenship" poster contest. The Council sells potato chips in the halls during the noon hour and ice cream bars at the home basketball games. The Council sponsored a Friday night dance. The funds raised from their many projects were used for a trip to be taken by the Council members at the end of the year and for leaving a gift to the school.

Latin Club

The Latin Club began its year with an exciting initiation of new members given by the honorary club members.

Taking their Roman knowledge seriously, they held a banquet—Roman style. The club also took a trip to Field's Museum in Chicago. To help raise funds for the club's activities, the Latin Club sponsored a Friday night dance, "Julie's Jump."

Science Club

The future scientists of tomorrow, continually searching for answers to baffling questions, are sure to be members of the Science Club. The members meet in the chemistry lab every other Wednesday night to perform various experiments and projects in chemistry and physics.

Throughout the year they sponsored a dance and a very educational assembly, "House of Magic". Mr. Alton Cochran, chief chemist and physicist, is sponsor of the Science Club.

Camera Club

The Camera Club provides an opportunity for students interested in photography. The members meet to discuss all phases of good picture taking and development.

The club sponsored a display of the winning pictures in the National High School Photographic Contest. This gives students interested in entering either the national contest or the contest sponsored by our own club an idea of the type of pictures that win prizes.

Will they make it?

Kiss for luck!

Cremation!

Debate

Resolved that the President of the United States should be elected by direct vote of the people, was the debate topic this year. During the year the Debate group sponsored three dances, attended speech meets, discussions, and debates. The highlight of the year was the debaters' conference at Purdue University.

F.H.A.

To broaden interests in Home Economics, a Future Homemakers of America chapter was organized and initiated in Crown Point High School. The main projects were selling Christmas cards and sponsoring one of the Friday night dances. The sponsors are Miss Newcomb and Miss Poff.

Lettermen's Club

The 1953-54 Lettermen's Club sponsored by Mr. DeBaun had many projects. This year's lettermen decided that when a boy earned his first major letter in sports, it would entitle him to receive his letter sweater. Because of the great expense in buying these varsity sweaters, most of the projects were to raise money. These projects varied from selling programs at football games and selling pop at basketball games, to sponsoring a Friday night dance. Their last project was sponsoring the Bendix singers from South Bend, Indiana. The Lettermen also furnished the roster board used at the basketball games.

"Old Time Vaudeville" was the theme for the annual Lettermen's Club variety show. This year the show was given two nights, April 7-8, instead of the one night show of previous years.

Lettermen were kept busy with their jobs. Here they hurry to get those football programs folded.

Machinist Club

Our Machinist Club is one of the oldest of the few vocational clubs in the state. Crown Point's Club has a membership of 44.

The members meet every two weeks during home room and they work on their projects during class periods and at night sessions. They sponsored the annual Inter-Class Tourney and two Friday night dances. They gave three trophies at the tourney; to the championship team, most valuable player, and for the best display of sportsmanship. Proceeds from these projects are put into machinery for the vocational department.

The F.F.A. has an outstanding record for its year's activities. The club won the district award which included judging on the following things: chapter meeting, essay, scrapbook, grain judging, speech and the sec.-treas. book.

Several F.F.A. boys won individual honors. Jim Becker won a national essay contest on farm safety. Three F.F.A. boys won a trip to Tulsa, Oklahoma after they had placed in the state vegetable judging contest.

Several field trips were taken to give the boys first hand information and experience.

Second row: Barbara Moore, Claire Phillips, Jeanne Biggs, Carole Barmore, Yvonne Gignac, Georganne See.

Third row: Roberta Metcalf, Accompanist, Carole Larson, Judy Rogers, Sue Huggins.

Harmonaires

The Harmonaires consist of twelve girls selected from the A Cappella for their outstanding voices. The alto section is composed of Pat Kuiper, Barbara Moore, Claire Phillips and Carole Larson; the second-sopranos, Pat Gauthier, Jeanne Biggs, Carole Barmore and Judy Rogers; and the first-sopranos, Clare Maloney, Yvonne Gignac, Georganne See and Sue Huggins.

This talented group of girls have sung many times throughout the school year. They performed before such groups as the P. T. A., Farm Bureau and various church groups.

Herman Watson, Music Director

Music Director

Mr. Herman Watson joined the Music Department at Crown Point this year. Previously he taught in the Fowler Schools, Fowler, Indiana. Under his capable direction the A Cappella has given many creditable performances. Also under Mr. Watson's supervision are the Harmonaires, the Boys Ensemble, and the Girls Chorus.

He devotes much of his time outside of school with endless hours of practicing which are certainly recognized at each performance given by his music groups.

A Cappella

Under the supervision of a new director, Herman Watson, the A Cappella is maintaining its good reputation. The choir consists of 33 members all of whom were chosen by Mr. Watson at the first of the school year.

Their first appearance this year was before the school at the annual Thanksgiving convocation. Throughout the year they sang for all religious convocations, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. They also gave Christmas and Spring concerts which were for the benefit of the entire community. Featured musical selections at the Christmas concert were White Christmas, Winter Wonderland, O Holy Night, and God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen. The Band, Girls' Chorus and the Harmonaires also took part in the Christmas program.

Monday evenings are reserved by all the A Cappella members for an hour and a half rehearsal which is the only time outside of school which is used for practice.

The A Cappella members enjoy singing a variety of music. Several of their favorite numbers include:

Balm In Gilead for the religious side; Ezekiel Saw de Wheel and Were You There, both Negro spirituals; I Believe and Homing, popular ballads; and Cindy, an American folk song.

Assisting Mr. Watson with his many A Cappella activities were Joan Vaughn, pres.; Judy Rogers, veep; Babs Denney, sec.-treas. Eppler Gruenhagen and Richard Blanchard were accompanists during the year.

The A Cappella rounded out their school year by singing at Baccalaureate on May 30.

Dads' Night! The Band executed this formation in honor of all the Dads present.

Band

Under Mr. Fredericks' able direction the Crown Point band has done an excellent job in exhibiting their talents before the public this year. Their first concert was given at Christmas time when they joined with the A Cappella to give a creditable performance.

However, their most successful appearance was the production entitled "Touring the United States." They traveled with the audience to all corners of the United States making it even more realistic with pantomime skits. The profits of this night performance went toward the purchasing of new band uniforms. The obtaining of these new uniforms was their main goal of the year, and the other school clubs, as well as the community groups, took part to help them on their way.

The band participated in both the District and the State Contests. At the State Contest which was held at Butler University, the following people placed first: Bob Heisterberg, cornet; Roberta Metcalf, piano; and Joan Vaughn, French horn.

Sunshine Society

"Charity for All" was carried out by the Sunshine Society. Thirteen Thanksgiving baskets were distributed to the needy. The "Save the Children Crusade", a joint project with the Hi-Y, was a huge success. A donation was given to the band for their new uniforms and the annual contribution was sent to Riley Memorial Hospital. These were the year's highlights.

The annual Sunshine-Hi-Y semi-formal at Christmas time and the Rose Dance in April were co-sponsored by the Sunshine. The May breakfast ended the year with the installation of officers for 1954-55.

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y handled the ushering at the Holiday Tourney, gave gifts to the patients at Parramore Hospital and bought a mirror for the boys' dressing room at the Community Building. One of their major projects this year was participating with the P. T. A., the civic clubs, and the Student Council in building the new parking lot. The Hi-Y also took part in the annual semi-formal dance held during the Christmas holidays, and participated in the clothing crusade with the Sunshine Society.

These boys live up to their theme of Christian living by their many unselfish deeds.

We have placed these candles for love, unselfishness, charity, helpfulness, kindness, and service.

All proceeds from this Sunshine project were turned over to Riley Memorial Hospital and the band for new uniforms.

Sunshine-Hi-Y combine their efforts to make their Children's Federation drive a success.

We're proud of our new parking lot which was made possible by co-operation of Hi-Y and other school and civic clubs.

"Leave it to a dame to faint at a time like this!"

"You won't get away with this, friend. Crime never pays!"

Stranger In The Night

"Body, body, whose body?" This is just one of the lines spoken in the play "Stranger In The Night" which produced riotous laughter. The play, presented by the class of '54, had the honor of being the first mystery play staged in C. P. H. S.

A list of players varying from a lady wrestler to a sneaky hotel detective made up the cast which kept the play alive and interesting.

Directed by Miss Virginia Shelby, the play was credited a large success.

You Can't Take It With You

What's the result when a slightly unusual family mixes with high society? "You Can't Take It with You," is an hilarious comedy which gives the answer.

The Sycamore family varied from a permanent guest, an experimenting scientist for a father, to an adult daughter taking beginning ballet lessons. When the Sycamore family's philosophy and romance mixed with the social conscious Kirbys, fireworks resulted.

The cast and crew's hard work mixed with fun produced a very successful play.

Inklings

For the first time in C. P. H. S. history, the Inklings was changed from a mimeographed form to a printed paper. The four page news sheet which comes out bi-weekly, is published by the Journalism class.

The staff concentrates on writing news and also becoming good salesmen by selling student subscriptions and advertising to local merchants.

The dummy and assignment sheets are laid out by the editor, Pat Hickey, and advisor, Miss Jessup, while the staff is busy writing copy, headlines, typing copy, proofreading, copy reading and re-writing.

From time to time page editors are appointed and a business manager takes care of all advertising business.

Although the staff finds a printed paper more time-consuming, it gives them experience in real newspaper work.

That a "slip-stick" is handy for many uses is shown by Carole Larson as she talks to Carol Jean Gerlach and Betty Soyring.

No one realizes the time, work, and worry that goes with editing a yearbook until you're placed in the shoes of a staff member.

Wheels started rolling in July when Carole Larson, editor, Betty Soyring and Carole Kimberlin, staff writers, attended the High School Journalism Institute at I. U. There they planned the yearbook and drew up the dummy copy. They received 3rd prize in their division for the layout.

By October contracts were obtained for printing, engraving, photography, and book covers. Pictures were being planned and taken.

Near March 17th, deadline, a visit to the Excalibur Annex would be a chaotic one. You would see staff members trying to get help in writing copy and captions, or frantically seeking names of unknown underclassmen. Phones are in use calling about advertisements. Typists are clicking away at typewriters, the artist is busy with her drawings. This is all supervised by our chief instigator, Miss Jessup.

Two new sections were added this year—pictorial advertising, and an opening section showing various phases of school activities.

The 1954 Excalibur took form in long hard hours of work and anxiety. We sincerely hope you readers enjoy the finished product as much as we enjoyed preparing it for you.

Sports

An empty locker room echoes with the shouts of spectators—feelings of enthusiasm among the team-mates. Football, basketball, baseball, track, boxing, cross-country and wrestling round out our athletic program. Many opportunities are open to the individual who has the desire and ability to participate. Healthful living, teamwork, individual skill and good sportsmanship are a few of the advantages offered by such a program. Sports, a major extra-curricular activity, are enthusiastically followed by the Crown Point students and community.

No matter how friendly this Brickie acted, the Crown Point Boosters got rid of him fast!

BULLDOGS! Everyone of us!! George, Jr.'s loyal subjects are the cheerleaders, Mary Schmal, Marilyn Foss, and Carole Kimberlin.

Booster Club

Booster night was one of the most spectacular events of the year. A white carpet and a spot light were provided for the queen, Geraldine Kaiser, and her court, Barbara Denney, Norma Utley, and Roberta Metcalf as they walked to the crowning place. A parade, decorated convertibles, signs and cheers were their escorts to this gala event.

The basketball boosting signs were also a highlight. Many hours of hard and tedious work were spent in making the red and white plastic signs.

A sign consisting of profiles of the team and Coach Snider was made for the Sectionals where the Booster Club showed outstanding school spirit and enthusiasm.

Although we lost our faithful mascot, George, through the efforts of a rival school, his son, George, Jr., guided us through an exciting year.

Come on team! We want a touchdown! chant the Crown Point Boosters at the football game.

Don't touch him, you fiend!
I'll get him or die trying.

See any four-leaf clovers?
This hurts me to do this.

What do you think? Did he catch it?
Don't let them catch you, John.

Varsity Football

The Crown Point Bulldogs started their 1953 season by losing a close game to Valparaiso 13-7. The game was played on a rain drenched field. The Bulldogs' only score came when Ray Smith crashed over from the one yard line. Ron Waymire converted the extra point. The Bulldogs lost their second game to tough E. Chicago Washington (later NIHSC champions) 43-0.

The big red and white opened their home season against Merrillville with a much improved showing over their first two games. The score had C. P. on top by 14-0. Al Seramur tossed a long pass to Dick Foss for the first T.D. The second T.D. came when Ron Waymire drove over the line. Waymire converted the two extra points.

The Bulldogs dropped two tough games in a row, one to Gary Edison 12-6 and one to Bricksies of Hobart 6-0. The Bulldog eleven managed to hold Hammond Morton to a 7-7 tie.

The Bulldogs then lost three consecutive games: Lowell 13-0, Griffith in a close 7-6 game, and held E. Chicago Roosevelt to a 26-0 score. This game was also played on a muddy field.

The Bulldogs will lose eleven Lettermen this year. They are: Vern Campbell, John Smead, Ron Waymire, Tony DiTommaso, Bill Hargis, Don Stillson, Gene Stuhlmacher, Art Kidd, Dave McMichael, Ray Smith and Ken Scheidt.

Coaches Robertson, Duchon, Childs and DeBaun have an informal conference on what other subject than—Football.

Tony DiTommaso and Vernon Campbell, voted co-captains by the football team, talk things over between classes.

Tony DiTommaso and Vernon Campbell are again caught by our camera with Bill Hargis who was voted most valuable player.

Jerry Goodman, Bob Hudson, Duane Huber, Paul Hudson, and Laurence Blanchard served capably as football managers this year.

Varsity Basketball

The Crown Point Bulldogs started their 53-54 season with ten victories in eleven starts with their only loss coming at the hands of a fine Mishawaka team. They waltzed through the Crown Point Holiday Tourney for the second straight year and also won the Valpo tourney where Dick Becker, 6' 5" hoopster ace set a single game tournament mark of 26 points against Portage, and shot 23 points against Valpo for a 49 point total. This broke the 43 point two-game tournament mark set in 1950 by Chesterton's Lennie Eason. Becker led the scoring for the second straight season by scoring 334 points. Jim Schmal was second with 294 points.

After their fine start they lost six out of the last ten ballgames. One of the reasons for their poor showing was the lack of a good offense at the last part of the season.

The starting line-up was Keith Perry, 6' 2" sophomore, Jerry Kaiser, 5' 11" junior, as forwards, Dick Becker, 6' 5" senior as center, and "Woody" Kasch, 5' 10" junior, and Jim Schmal, 5' 9" senior, as guards. The bulldogs ended their season of 13 wins and 8 losses with a loss to Hammond Clark, 84 to 79, in the sectional tourney.

The Bulldogs lost four-year-man Dick Becker, three-year-man Jim Schmal, plus three other experienced seniors; Ron Waymire, Eston Perry, and Dave McMichael at the season's end.

Since the arrival in 1949 of Coach Dean Snider, the Bulldogs have established a record of 63 wins and 44 losses, added three tournament trophies to the trophy case and also cupped the Calumet Conference trophy. A great deal of credit is due to Coach Snider for these honors in the last five years.

Reserve Basketball

Taking over Mr. Snider's regular post, Mr. Childs had little luck with his reserve squad as they finished a losing season by winning only one and losing 13. The one bright spot in the dark season was their victory against Crown Point's ancient foe, the Lowell Red Devils. They defeated the Devils by a score of 36 to 27.

The Bulldog reserve team consisted of Warren Scott, Dick Neely, Ron Helsel, Chuck Collins, Jack Lashbrook, Jerry Gerlach, Jim Brown, Charles Swartz, and Jack Lear. The action was evenly dispersed among the boys, as they were all of about the same quality.

Breaking even in their freshman year, the reserves greatly missed the height and rebounding of their former teammate, Keith "Goose" Perry, who played on the varsity team this year.

However, this year's reserve team may not be as poor as their record indicates. They suffered many losses due to lack of height on their squad and many of the setbacks were of the last minute, heart breaking kind as the one point loss to Merrillville and the two point loss to Hobart. But Coach Childs has them well rehearsed in fundamentals and the squad could produce some future "stars" for the varsity.

*Reserve games played by freshman team.

Along with a coach experienced in high school basketball there was an unusually large amount of promising freshmen on the team this year. These facts helped the freshmen pull out a victory in the Valpo tourney by whipping Valpo and then going on to beat Chesterton to win the trophy. With this victory, the freshmen, led by Birdzell, Kaiser, Bock, Wilcox, Petrovich, Schmidt, and Maas finished a mediocre season with a 6 win and 8 loss record.

The freshmen lineup consisted of Birdzell at center, Wilcox and Petrovich as forwards, and Bock and Kaiser as guards. Schmidt and Maas also saw considerable action. The scoring for the freshmen was evenly distributed among the first five and the rebounding was well handled by the forwards and center.

Freshmen reserves, whose season's record was a 5 win and 7 loss were: Lockhart, Meyers, Brown, Henderson, Don, Cope, Villeneuve, Johnson, Coe, Perigo, Smead, Hill, Frederick, and Jacobsma.

While the statistics show only a fair season, the fine spirit and superb team play inspired by Coach Childs promises fine things for the future. Because of this fine spirit and team play, the freshmen were able to finish the last three games on the reserve schedule.

G.A.A.

"Lights, camera, action, now hold that pose" were familiar expressions to the actresses in the Hollywood set.

"Yo, ho, ho and a bottle of coke" were the shouts of the girls who worked long and hard on the sailors' dance straight from Annapolis.

The theme of the annual G.A.A. Carnival this year was "This is My Country." Every section of the United States was represented. The movie stars of Hollywood; the sailors from Annapolis; the wild and woolly west; the Gary steelworkers and even Crown Point. Not only the members of the G. A. A. but gym girls participated in this program. Under the supervision of Mrs. Palmer, sponsor, and Mrs. Maloney, who has provided musical accompaniment for many years, the program was a great success. The G. A. A. Banquet honoring the senior members was held at the Youkey Country Club. Mrs. Palmer gave them their record of points they made during their G. A. A. years and also presented the annual "star" awards. This award is given to two girls chosen by the members for the leadership and sportsmanship that they have shown through the year. This year the stars were presented to Claire Phillips and Norma Utley.

The purpose of the G. A. A. is to promote better sportsmanship among the girls and to help them get along with others. It is one of the biggest organizations in school and it is continuing in its growth.

All phases of life at Crown Point High School were represented in the dance performed by the Senior G.A.A. members.

Who would know that these gun slinging molls weren't really from the wild 'n woolley west but members of one of the Phys. Ed. classes?

Track

The highlight of the "53" season was when the Crown Point Cindermen came home with the Rensselaer Relays trophy. The team couldn't seem to pull ahead in other meets and were edged out in them by only a few points.

Leading point-getter for Crown Point was Ron Waymire. He also broke the school records in the high and low hurdles. Second in the point scoring was Bob Stuhlmacher who repeatedly threatened Ron Barr's school record in the mile run. Bob remained undefeated until entering regional competition. He was also the only track man to score in the Sectional and Regional meets for Crown Point. Other high scorers were John Smead, David Rzepka, Paul Hudson, and Jack Roysdon.

Despite the fact that the team had no home track to run on, and that all of the meets were run at other schools, it can be said that Coach Ruby and his boys turned in a very creditable season for Crown Point.

Cross Country

On August 15th Coach Dean Snider was greeted by a large turnout of hopeful harriers. Practice sessions started off at a leisurely pace, but by the time school started cross-country practice was in full swing. The first meet of the season was a triangular affair with Chesterton and Griffith with the Bulldogs finishing third. Against a tough Hobart group the harriers were also set back. The Bulldogs, hungry for a victory, whipped both Lowell and Morocco over the Red Devil's gruelling course. At Gleason Park, scene of most of the team's meets, the harriers out-distanced Merrillville and Lowell to rack up their second victory of the season. The Bulldogs next journeyed to Valpo but finished third against Chesterton and Valpo, beating Portage. At East Chicago Washington for their last meet the harriers were edged by the Senators 24-31 (low score wins). Highlight of the meet was Bob Nolan, winning C. P.'s only first place finish of the year. The Bulldogs also ran in the Sectional and the Hobart Invitational.

An innovation this year was the reserve cross-country team which usually ran before the varsity and compiled an excellent record.

They're off!

The first 50 push-ups are the hardest.

Golf

The 1953 golf team, composed completely of underclassmen, faced stiff competition from all over Lake County during the spring season. A sudden snow storm cut short the first meet at the Youche Country Club against an experienced Hammond High unit.

Defeats were suffered at the hands of Gary Lew Wallace, Hammond High, Hammond Tech, and Dyer before the Bulldogs seemed to get the feel of competition and copped their next four out of five matches, losing only to Hammond Noll.

Victories over Hammond Clark, Dyer, and Valpo were the highlights of the season. The finish of the season was the sectional when the sandblasters journeyed to La Porte, but failed to qualify for the state meet at Indianapolis.

Mr. Risk, an ardent golfer, is the coach. Dave McMichael, Eddie Rohrbach, and Jack Viant paced the divot diggers throughout the season.

The other golfers were: Peter Brown, Clayton Root, Jerry Trump, Eppler Gruenhagen, George Komechak, Jim Brown, Jim Kerr, Bob Cottrell, Jim Henderlong, Forrest Feighner and George Kleinfeldt.

Golf boys gather 'round to offer Dave McMichael advice in lining up a putt.

Baseball

Under the coaching of Coach Carnahan, the Bulldogs turned in another fine season with a 9 win and 6 loss record and came in third in the Calumet Conference. The Bulldogs played a very tough schedule this year such as E. C. Roosevelt, Hammond Noll, Hammond Clark, Froebel, Hammond Tech, and Culver M. A. The usual starting line-up featured all-conference selectee Bill Hargis at first, Vern Campbell at second, Jerry Kaiser at short, Jim Schmal at third and all-conference selectee Bob Howard in right field. Bob Hobson, Joe DiPaola, Don Spurr and Don Nelson alternated in left and center fields. The pitchers were all-conference selectee, Ken Murray, Dick Becker and Al Seramur. Ken Murray had a fine record with an 8 win and 1 loss season. Bob Howard led the club in hitting with a .429 average.

The Bulldogs are usually one of the most feared teams in Lake County because of the fine teams produced year after year.

The team started their season by practicing in the gym because of the bad weather. A lot of credit is due to the fine reserve team that put in practice time but did not get in any of the games. Also credit is due to asst. coach DeBaun and managers, Dick Zurbruggen, Ken Vickers and Don Sorenson.

Wrestling

It was a crushing and bruising season for the Crown Point matmen this year since the team lacked necessary experience and knowledge. The greatest deficiency was in the lighter weights and in the light heavy weights. Despite the 1 and 10 record of the team, a great improvement has been shown and a better record is expected next year.

Under Classmen

Many important objects fill up the lives of the underclassmen.

School books have their allotted time, but there's always time left for more entertaining reading. Report cards, passes, and admits have their respective places in each student's life. The passing of notes and that bite of candy between classes help round out the daily schedule which is important in the growth of underclassmen.

Seniors

Memories of school games, class plays, the proms and other important school activities have their place in the mind of each Senior. But you can no longer rely on memories alone. Your thoughts turn to the future—the planning of your lives and careers of tomorrow. The knowledge you obtain today will be helpful in reaching tomorrow's success, for the world you are entering is a complicated and difficult one.

Class of '54

The senior year, our final year of attending Crown Point High, brings back a flood of memories experienced in the years spent here.

They were good years. Years filled not only with a gaining of knowledge and of practical learning, but years of making new friends and enjoying good times.

We've been a proud class. We've worn our rings and the class colors of blue on white with our heads held high.

We broke the routine of class plays by presenting two new types of plays in our junior and senior years. This added prominence to our class record.

We've witnessed many changes in our school since we arrived as wide-eyed freshmen. We've seen our school grow, not only in student enrollment, but in physical improvements added to the school plant.

When we were hosts to the Junior Prom, "Stairway To The Stars," it was a big occasion for us. It proved a challenge because it added another "first" to our class accomplishments, for we were the first to present an out of town prom.

Guided by the above class officers, Bonne Licht, treasurer; Ed Wright, president; Eppler Gruenhagen, secretary; Bruce Benbow, veep; we looked forward to our senior year and the many activities involved. Our sponsors Mr. Hale, Miss Cruader, Miss Sebastian and Mr. Needham, gladly offered their services to help us with our many problems.

As our footsteps echo in the halls of Crown Point High School for the last time, we take with us our fond memories as we go forward to realize our hopes and dreams for the future.

National Honor Society

Scholarship, leadership, service and character are the important qualities considered by the school faculty as they elect the students they think best suited for the National Honor Society.

The senior students elected on the society are chosen from the upper third of the class and from this, 15% of the seniors are selected.

The percentage of juniors chosen is limited to the top 5% of their class.

The juniors selected from last year's honor society served as this year's officers. Several business meetings were held and three social meetings were given in which college speakers were invited to talk on college preparation and planning. These meetings were open to any senior interested in college. The officers also had charge of the initiation of the new members. This year's officers were: George Komechak, pres.; Keith Patterson, veep; Claire Phillips, treas.; Jean Mikuta, corresponding sec'y.; Barbara Moore, recording sec'y.; and Carole Larson, publicity manager.

This year's honor society is composed of the following students:

This pictorial advertising section is a new project for the Excalibur. Its purpose is to increase the reader's interest to provide a worthwhile form of advertisement for the merchant.

The businessmen play a definite part in the life of a school by their active participation in school projects and by their financial support. We appreciate this support and the Excalibur hopes that this advertising section will be a service to the local merchants.
